THE CITY OF ASPEN

CITY OF ASPEN Support for this Farm Guide comes from the City of Aspen, inviting the community to learn how climate change will impact Aspen's future. Some of the changes we can expect to see in our western region include a shift in the timing of snowmelt and runoff, an extended growing season and increased fire danger. Learn more at OurFutureAspen.com, and you'll see why supporting locally grown food and the development of our local foodshed is a smart way to help ensure Our Future Aspen will be a resilient, healthy and happy place to call home for decades to come.

CRYSTAL RIVER MEATS

Cattle and sheep have roamed the Colorado mountains ever since hunting wild game could no longer provide enough food for those living here. These animals have been companions of humans for over 10,000 years, supplying essential life-supporting protein. We at Crystal River Meats continue to supply this wholesome food. Our family operation focuses on proper grazing to build healthy soil and create our grass-finished, non-GMO, no hormones, no antibiotic beef and lamb. We have the highest certifications and partner with the best calf producers in the West. We are pleased to bring you the best-tasting and healthiest grass-finished meat available. Learn more at CrystalRiverMeats.com.

EATING LOCAL — SIMPLIFIED

Getting Colorado-grown goodness on your plate doesn't have to involve time in the kitchen. These fine establishments proudly serve up the freshest local and seasonal cuisine.

Western Colorado's farm-to-table movement begins with farmers and ranchers who are dedicated to producing high-quality food—which is a very good thing for local restaurants that search out the best produce, meat and dairy for their patrons.
